

Boston & Providence Railroad,
Stoughton Station
53 Wyman St.
Stoughton
Norfolk County
Massachusetts

HAER MA-28

HAER
MASS,
11-STOU,
3-

WRITTEN HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE DATA
PHOTOGRAPHS

HISTORIC AMERICAN ENGINEERING RECORD

HAER MA-28

BOSTON & PROVIDENCE RAILROAD,
STOUGHTON STATION

HAER
MASS,
11-STO4,
3-

Date: 1888

Location: 53 Wyman St. Stoughton, Norfolk County, Massachusetts.

Architect: Charles Brigham

Owner: Originally; Boston & Providence Railroad.
Presently; Metropolitan Boston Transit Authority.

Significance: The train station at Stoughton is one of the last remaining towered stations built in Massachusetts by the railroads during the late 19th and early 20th century. It is also the first and probably the most significant public structure designed by Charles Brigham.

Transmitted: Dan Clement, 1984, with historical information written by Bill Lebovich.